

This is a discussion of Neale's book on facts. The question is how his position looks within a free logical framework.