

The main claim is that branched quantifiers show us that it may be that an expression z is in the scope of both x and y without x being in the scope of y or y of x . The claim is applied to some tricky intensional constructions.